

As a family of eight, we are very pleased with Indiana's "Don't Call" laws. It has helped provided some peace around our home in the evenings. Just because I have a phone does not give someone the constitutional right to regularly bug me to buy something. Please do not change it.